

Equal Opportunities Policy

It is the responsibility of every employee to ensure his or her own conduct conforms to the expected standards and reflects these Policy Statements.

The aim of the policies is to encourage harmony and respect amongst individuals so as to promote good working practices with a view to maximizing the performance and the return to SEC Ltd and the employees

If Equal Opportunities are not applied, then valuable talent and potential are wasted. Moreover, when unfair discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation takes place they bring about a climate of fear, insecurity and poor work performance. As well as being unlawful it affects profitability and morale. It is therefore vital that every employee understands his or her responsibilities. Equal Opportunities is taken very seriously by SEC Ltd and willful failure to apply the policies or evidence of discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation will result in disciplinary action which may include your dismissal.

Policy statement on harassment at work

1. SEC Ltd believes that the dignity of every person must be respected. Harassment of colleagues or visitors is unacceptable and will be regarded as gross misconduct. The highest standards of conduct are required of everyone regardless of seniority.
2. SEC Ltd recognises that harassment may take many forms. It may be directed towards persons of either sex. It may relate to a person's ethnic origin, religion or belief, age, sex, pregnancy or maternity leave, sexual orientation, physical or mental attributes or some other personal characteristic.
3. Harassment may involve action or inaction, behaviour, exclusion, comment or physical contact that the recipient finds objectionable or offensive. It may result in the recipient feeling threatened, humiliated, intimidated, patronised, demoralised or less confident in their ability. Condoning such conduct may be harassment in itself. The test of harassment is, at least in part, subjective.
4. Examples of unacceptable conduct include:
  - verbal abuse, or insulting behaviour
  - sexist or racist jokes, jokes about an individual's sexual orientation, jokes about a person's age or jokes about an individual's physical or mental attributes
  - the display or circulation of sexually suggestive or racially abusive material
  - bullying, coercive or threatening behaviour
  - the ridicule or exclusion of an individual for cultural or religious differences, on the grounds of sex or sexual orientation, on the grounds of age or on the grounds of disability
  - unsolicited or unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature including touching, staring or commenting
  - comments of a sexual nature about a person's appearance or dress
  - any conduct, whether or not of a sexual nature, which has the purpose or effect of intimidating, degrading, humiliating or offending someone simply because he/she is of a particular sex

- Treating someone unfavourably because they have rejected or submitted to unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature or to harassment on the grounds of their sex.
5. Harassment, particularly on the grounds of sex, sexual orientation, race, age, disability, religion or belief, will be regarded as gross misconduct for disciplinary purposes. Accordingly, employees guilty of harassment run a serious risk of summary dismissal.
  6. Equally, an allegation of harassment must not be made lightly. If it is found that an allegation of harassment has been made without foundation and maliciously then this will also be regarded as gross misconduct for disciplinary purposes.
  7. All complaints of harassment should be made to your manager through the grievance procedure unless the complaint is regarding this person when you should complain to that person's superior.
