Project overview

A jewel at the heart of Nine Elms, DAMAC Tower offers residential, retail and office spaces in a graceful sculptural composition of terracotta, reconstituted stone, and glass. Respectful of its context, the project's slender proportions are apparent from both local and distant views, establishing a unique identity, while responding to adjacent building forms.

SEC work package

Our package comprised of the design development, manufacture and installation of factory finished joinery products. Including the fit out of bathrooms, sanitary fixtures and fittings, vanity units with stone worktops. Prefinished bedroom wardrobes with associated storage and lighting, pre-factory finished painted oak veneered door sets with ironmongery and frameless prefinished concealed riser doors. Bespoke joinery items included skirting & window boards, purpose made joinery to the reception.

SEC have been a pleasure to work with on DAMAC. Their drive and practical approach were refreshing and the end product in terms of snags remaining at PC was the lowest that's MPX have produced on any project, which is a credit to the team involved.
